

BRILL

■ BRILL ■ BÖHLAU ■ FINK ■ MENTIS ■ NIJHOFF ■ SCHÖNINGH ■ VANDENHOECK & RUPRECHT ■ V&R UNIPRESS ■ WAGENINGEN ACADEMIC

Supervision as a the key tool to effective implementation and promotion of inclusive education

Anna Prokopiak / Anna Zamkowska / Dorota Prysak

Educational Supervision

A Guidebook

2025, 120 pages with 26 figures, hardcover

€ 45,- D / € 47,- A

ISBN 978-3-8471-1908-1

V&R unipress

This is an open access title and available at www.vandenhoeck-ruprecht-verlage.com

Dr Anna Prokopiak is professor in special education and researcher of the environment of people on the autism spectrum at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in Lublin, Poland. Dr Anna Zamkowska is professor in special education and researcher in inclusive education at Casimir Pulaski Radom University, Poland. Dr Dorota Prysak, PhD in special education, is researcher of disability studies at University of Silesia in Katowice, Poland.

The guidebook specifies the role of supervision in education, offering theoretical and practical insights that can help effectively implement supervision in educational settings. It is designed as a resource primarily for teachers and school administrators who seek to foster inclusive education and enhancing professional development. It is also addressed to supervision professionals and leaders, as well as educational policy makers, who have the capacity to implement effective legislation to support the development of inclusive education. The guidebook can serve as a valuable resource for researchers and students of education and educational psychology, offering the theoretical foundations and practical guidance on the effective use of supervision as a developmental tool in education contexts.

Order online at www.vandenhoeck-ruprecht-verlage.com or by e-mail to brill@brocom.de